"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it.

Warm Weather Dresses.

"It is, indeed, a stupid and indolent woman who cannot have dignity, pretty dresses this season!" exclaimed a young woman, who was just putting the last stitches into a delicate organdy.

"Just think of it, here is this dress; it took fourteen yards of goods and I have spent two days' time on it, and it is pretty enough to wear anywhere. I have just finished a black organdy, and it is a beauty. The skirt is made with five straight widths and a deep hem. Above the hem is a ruffle sixteen inches deep with a hem three-fourths of an inch wide and a shirred standing heading. The waist is made with tucks the form of a yoke, and the lower part of the waist gathered into the round belt. The sleeves are very full at the shoulders, and as close to the lower arm as is comfortable. The collar and the front are trimmed with a finger wide plaiting of the goods, set on in jabot fashion. I wear with this dress a very long sash made of a full width of black India silk, tied in a very long, loose bow at the back. I don't like stumpy bows; they give one a humpbacked effect.

"There are lovely new fabrics in cotton, the most delicate 'see-through' muslins; and there is a charming material somewhat like the old fashioned barege, made up with ruffles bound with silk or ribbons. Such dresses are exceedingly pretty, and are useful for home or watering place wear, for morning or informal days.

"India silk dresses are made with demi-train, trimmed with lace ruffles, either set on plain or draped in festoons or following a scalloped or pointed pattern.

"A number of pretty costumes have been made with princess bodies, with the sides draped in panier fashion. One model has narrow fronts, draped over the side sections, and with the ends left long enough to tie in a very large sash bow, with ends falling almost to the hem of the skirt. Sash ends with lace or fringe are pretty, and one slender figure has a very long, wide sash drapery, with one edge elaborately trimmed with lace. This sash is drawn around the waist, the lace trimmed edge falling over the skirt of the dress. The ends are tied in a loose knot, and cover a large portion of the back of the dress. A shoulder drapey in similar fashion is knotted at the front, the ends falling below the waist line."—New York Ledger.

Bowling and Quoits for Women.

Bowling has come to be recognized as a standing attraction in the way of winter sport, and an excellent substitute is provided for summer use in the game of lawn bowls. A number of different sized black balls are provided, flattened at one side. These are numbered, and two light wooden balls are used in playing. This is very much like the original game of bowls which was played in olden times on the green, and is full of interest. A very large lawn is not required for the playground, and a great deal of interest is attached to the game. It is as simple as the game of tennis, and fully as fascinating for outdoor amusement.

Quoits have long been recognized as a good game among men, but there is no reason why it should not be popular with women, if the weights are not made too heavy. As a substitute for this, however, the game of ring toss has been provided. Rings formed of light materials are thrown at a series of pegs, each one possessing a different value. The game is made up by the person scoring the greatest number of points in a certain number of throws, and much accuracy is sometimes attained by the players.

Somewhat similar to this is pitchette. A large board is furnished, upon which are a series of pegs, each one bearing a number. This board is intended to stand upright, and rings are thrown at it from a certain distance so as to catch and hang upon one of the pegs. Much skill is called for in the playing of the game, and the first attempts are generally lamentable, which shows that there is more to the game than is imagined at first sight.—Harper's Bazar.

Have Worked for the Government.

A good many distinguished women have at different times been compelled to seek employment in the government service. Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas, the widow of the "Little Giant," reduced to poverty by her husband's unfortunate speculations, for a time held a clerkship in the treasury. During the lifetime of her husband she was a brilliant leader in society, and while in the treasury married an army officer of high standing. The daughter of a decayed Washington family was married from the treasury to a wealthy German baron. A niece of General John Sedgwick once held a place there.

Mrs. Commodore Wainwright, a descendant of Franklin, and two granddaughters of Jefferson have been clerks in the government service. Mrs. Attorney General Brewster was a clerk in the bureau of internal revenue in the treasury department, and Mr. Brewster, then a Philadelphia lawyer, occasionally came to see her when she was a clerk. She was the orphan daughter of Robert J. Walker, once secretary of the treasury. A female cousin of General Rawlings, formerly secretary of war, and a cousin of William H. Seward have held government clerkships.—Washington Cor. Boston Journal.

THE CHILEAN REVOLUTION.

Reports from the revolution in Chili are as contradictory as the news regarding Blaine's health. It is known in the one case that there is fighting in Chili, which proves that there is a revolt against the Government, and in the other that Secretary Blaine has not been at his post for months, which indicates that his health is impaired.

A. J. Dougherty, United States Consul at Callao, who has just arrived at Washington, tells the Post that the war in Chili is the most ridiculous revolution he ever knew or heard of, and in reality it does not deserve the name of a revolution. The revolutionists are stationed at Iquique, several hundred miles from Santiago, where Balmaceda has his headquarters. The latter has a force of 30,000 at his command, and the insurgents have 7,000. Between the headquarters of the opposing forces lies a mountain range that is simply impassable by an armed force. The insurgents have no ships to carry their men by sea, and if they had they would soon be destroyed, for Balmaceda has the whole coast protected by torpedo boats. Balmaceda is well supplied with the sinews of war, and goes on with the government, ignoring to a great extent the efforts of the insurgents to destroy it. The insurgents are seven hundred miles away from the Capital and cannot get any nearer.

Now an Iquique correspondent of New York papers, who says he has been over the insurgent or congressional field within the last few days, tells a very different story from Consul Dougherty. From what the correspondent has seen and heard, he is confident that the expedition which the congressional forces are sending south will prove victorious over Balmaceda. The army is admirably drilled and fully armed. The ranks are swelled by large accessions of volunteers from the mining districts, and the greatest unanimity prevails among the leaders, while there are many unwilling soldiers, men who serve against their will, in Balmaceda's ranks, and it will not take much to put them to flight.

It seems that reports from Chili are colored to order. Correspondents at Iquique give glowing descriptions of the maceda's headquarters picture the situation as being favorable to the Government party. As a new President will be inaugurated in September next who is less objectionable to the people than Balmaceda, who has the reputation of being too tyrannical for President of a Republic, it is possible that the fratricidal struggle may then be brought to a close.

Judge Ogden Hoffman of the United States District Court of California, died in San Francisco last Sunday. He was born in New York City, October 16, 1822. In 1851 he was appointed Judge of the United States District Court of California, a position which he filled with ability until stricken by disease about four months ago. Yesterday his funeral took place from Trinity Church, and was attended by Justice Field of the United States Supreme Court, Judge Sawyer of the Circuit Court, District Judge Ross, Chief Justice Beatty of the Supreme Court of California, and many other distinguished lawyers and citizens.

Bank cashiers should provide themselves with bullet-proof armor. Saturday at Columbus Grove, Ohio, a town of 2,000 inhabitants, a man appeared at the window and commenced firing at the cashier and shot him down. The robber then turned and shot an old farmer, who had just entered the bank. He then grabbed $1,500 in greenbacks, shoved them in his pocket, and darted out of the door, shooting a bystander and made his escape, though he was afterwards overtaken in the woods and killed. One of the men shot by the robber died from his wounds, the other two may recover.

Fred Douglass has tendered his resignation as United States Minister to Hayti. He gives no reason for his action, though as he sold all of his effects at Port-au-Prince some time ago, before he returned home, it was surmised that he did not intend to return to Hayti. Hyppolite, the President of the Haytian Republic, who is as black as the ace of spades, objected to Douglass because he is colored.

Frank Melbourne, the Ohio rain maker, has made three failures, and stock in his machine is below par. He wanted a million dollars for his discovery; now he could not sell it for ten cents.

The members of the Canadian Parliament want their pay increased from $1,000 to $1,500 a year.

Six companies of Indian soldiers have been organized by the War Department and four more are wanted. All the young bucks want to join the cavalry and it takes much persuasion to get them in the infantry.

Rioting in China.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—The steamship Oceanic arrived this evening from Hongkong and Yokohama. Advice from Hongkong up to July 15th state that the fire of discontent is still smoldering in North China, and occasional riots are reported. Mission stations near Canton are said to have been attacked, but no particulars are received. Two of the Wusueh rioters on trial voluntarily confessed that they murdered the two foreigners, Green and Orgent, during the Wusueh riots. The two prisoners were accordingly sent back to Kiangsi District and executed July 5th. Their heads are hung up at Wusueh as a warning to other evil doers. A correspondent at Tientsin writes under date of June 29th that all is quiet there and no trouble is anticipated. Comparative quietness seems to have been restored in Yangtze Valley, and several foreign gunboats have left for other stations. A correspondent at Ing Kiang, under date of June 27th, writes that the Viceroy wrote to the officials here that the residences of foreigners should be searched to see if they had any babies or dead people's bones about. The Presbyterian Mission was searched by an official while a crowd of excited natives waited outside.

The mob broke into the Catholic Mission Chalfant holding the rioters at bay with a revolver. The authorities finally sent the military to the scene and soldiers guarded the compound all night. On July 4th news came by telegraph from the southern part of the province of serious rioting. In this section the Catholics have a large property and a large orphanage. Several of these have been destroyed by the mob. At Fuchow Fu rioters wrecked an out house and entered the house of the priests and the church and sacked everything, but did not burn the buildings. The amount of damage done is not known, but it is learned that the orphanage was not touched. Soldiers have been ordered out and patrol the streets at night, guarding Romanist property. The town is now left without a gunboat and a feeling of uneasiness prevails. A telegram from Tientsin states that the French and British Ministers have opened negotiations with Tsungli Yamen in regard to their claim for indemnity on account of the recent riots. The sum claimed is 6,500,000 taels.

A Cloudburst—The Town of Redlands Flooded.

SAN BERNARDINO, August 11.—This afternoon about 3 o'clock, a storm gathered in the mountains northeast of this city and floated this way. The storm was accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning and struck this city about 4 o'clock and it rained heavily. The storm cloud floated back to the east again and the center of the storm appeared to hang over the valley to the north of Redlands, until its entire force was spent.

Half an inch or more of rain fell in this city, but little fell west of here. One barn was struck by lightning in the highlands and burned. Two horses were killed. The motor line between here and Redlands was washed out.

At Redlands and east of that city, the rainfall became a cloudburst. The flood came down Mill creek through the Redlands. The water flowed for hours through the entire city, two feet deep in the main street, flooding all the business houses and washing away some houses situated along the creek. At six o'clock, so far as known, no reservoir had broken. The flood was caused by a heavy cloudburst. Water in the Sloan was one foot deep. In front of the First National Bank at the motor depot, the water is three feet deep. Men at work in the Citigroup office were carried out on horseback. The storm was the heaviest at Crofton, three miles east of Redlands, which is covered with residences and young orchards, is flooded badly, having received the full force of the Redlands flood.

Allowed to Land.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—It has been decided to allow the Russian Jews detained in Boston under the immigration laws, to land upon filing a bond in the sum of $2,500 for each person, that such person shall not become a public charge.

An Editor Missing.

SAN BERNARDINO, August 11.—The friends of Scipio Craig of the Redlands Citigroup are becoming alarmed over his prolonged absence. Early in July he went east for the annual meeting of the National Editorial Association at St. Paul. The 29th of July he telegraphed from his old home, Manice, Ind., to ascertain if his business was all right. August 4th a letter was received at Redlands to Craig's address that had been forwarded from Manice, Ind., by the postmaster, who wrote that Craig had started for Redlands. Craig has not been heard from since. Last Winter Craig lost his wife, to whom he was greatly attached. At the same time he had a severe attack of grip that seriously affected his brain and nervous system. For weeks he could do no mental work and he frequently complained of his head, even up to his time of leaving for the east. He had no financial or other troubles to affect him. His aged father and mother lived with him, and are much exercised over his failure to return or inform them of his whereabouts.

Democrats Organizing.

Special to the Journal. NEW YORK, August 11.—It has been decided to organize a missionary club of fifteen leading Democratic orators connected with the National Association, who will go to Chicago on September 12th. After a short stop there a complete circuit of the Northwest will be made for the purpose of organizing unorganized States.

Among the speakers will be several candidates for the Speakership. Correspondents have been appointed in every county in the United States. Each county will be assessed $10 for the support of the order and the propagation of the Democratic doctrine through the sub organization. Questions of party policy were warmly discussed. There was a heated debate among the members on the silver question, the committee being divided on that point. It was decided that the tariff would be made the leading feature of the South and West.

Two Hundred and Sixty Passengers Drowned.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—Advice from Yokohama give further particulars of the sinking of the steamer Tamayo Marw, and the drowning of two hundred and sixty passengers. Tamayo Marw and another steamer Miyoshi Marw were racing when the latter steered across the Tamayo's course and the vessels collided. The Tamayo Marw sunk immediately and only about sixty people who were on LAMOUR, N. D., August 11.—At Griswold, Lamour county, sixteen miles north of here, on Sunday night Mrs. Herman Boeller was burned to death in bed, the log cabin evidently having been fired. The barn was also burned, although separated from the house. Wilhelm Boeller, her father-in-law, is missing, and it is thought he may be in the ruins of the barn. It is believed Wilhelm set fire to the dwelling after killing his daughter-in-law, and has taken his own life.

The Government Rain Maker.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, August 11.—C. R. Farwell today received a telegram from Prof. Dyrnforth, in charge of the rain producing experiments provided for by the last Congress, which is now being conducted on the ranch of Nelson Morris of this city in Texas. The Professor says that at the first experiment made yesterday, the clouds began to gather and that it is raining heavily there to day.

Excitement in the Wheat Market.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—The local wheat market was widely excited to-day, owing to reports from the Chicago market and a rumor that the Russian Government was about to prohibit the exportation of breadstuffs from that country. The buyer season rose to $1 72, but receded to $1 70 1/2. Buyer ninety-one reached $1 66 1/2, closing at $1 65 1/2.

Another Mountain Fire.

Special to the Journal.

SONOMA, August 11.—This afternoon a fire broke out west of town between Gundlach and Dressel's wine cellars, and for a time it seemed that they would be consumed, but the wind changed and the flames leaped up the mountains which are now burning fiercely. The fire is burning toward Napa county. Many mountain ranches are in great danger should a high wind commence blowing.

The Railroad Wins.

Special to the Journal.

WICHITA, Kas., August 11.—The suit brought by the Wichita Live Stock Exchange against the Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Frisco railroads to enjoin them from putting into effect a rate on live stock in excess of that ordered by the State Board of Railway Commissioners resulted in a victory for the road.

Appointments to be Made.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, August 11.—Director General Davis promises to hand to the Board of Control the appointments of the chiefs of the Horticultural and Machinery Department this week. It is the popular impression that John W. Samuels of Clinton, Ky., will receive the appointment of Horticultural chief.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses at a Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad—no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. Beware of cheap imitations. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

SUMMONS.

IN THE District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County—The State of Nevada sends to G. W. De Forest, Sheriff—You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Mary J. De Forest, as plaintiff, in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to obtain the judgment and decree of the Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you and said plaintiff, upon the ground of wilful desertion and failure on your part for more than one year to provide plaintiff with the common necessities of life, and for the care, custody and control of said child, and that plaintiff is permitted to resume her maiden name. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint filed on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Reno, this eleventh day of August, A. D. 1891.

There is great danger of smallpox spreading among the Indians. CLAUDIO VICUNA.
The New President of the Republic of Chili.

The Electoral College of Chili has confirmed the election of Claudio Vicuna as President of the Republic from the 18th of September 1891 to the same date 1896, a period of five years. President-elect Vicuna is a friend of President Balmaceda and is elected with his approval. Vicuna was born in Santiago in 1833, a year memorable for giving birth to the present constitution of Chili. His father, Ignacio Vicuna, was a member of the historic family who gave to Chili the eminent Archbishop Manuel Vicuna; a President of the Republic, Francisco Ramon Vicuna; a statesman, historian and liberal reformer, Pedro Felipe Vicuna; and a patriot and illustrious citizen, Benjamin Vicuna Mackenna, the first President elected. President-elect Vicuna is a man of great attainments but is at the same time eminently practical and energetic. He devoted the early portion of his life to the study of agriculture on a large farm where he introduced many important improvements, which have been generally adopted throughout the country. Among these were agricultural steam motors for various purposes for use in the field. He has traveled extensively in Europe and is considered by his countrymen to have every quality for governing Chili with sagacity, moderation and patriotism. It is to be hoped that the wise administration of Claudio Vicuna will see the end of the fratricidal war which has raged so long in his country, and there is every reason to believe that such will be the case. We are enabled to furnish our readers with these particulars through the courtesy of Mr. Ramon Voles, the editor of Revista Popular, New York.

SUNSET ON TAHOE.
The Painter Cannot Depict its Glories.
"The saddest limitation of the painter is that he cannot depict the glory of a sunset. The colors he may reproduce as true as the evening has them, tint for tint, tone for tone, shade and form to the minutest portion. But there is glory, effulgence and radiance in the cloud. Light, iridescence, spirituality, in the golden sea about the sun. These he cannot imprison on his canvas. They are evanescent as the evening wind. They evade the cunning of his brush. Even Titian failed—what hope left for others! The canvas is but the corpse of the sunset, for the soul is departed."

Could the artist reproduce with all its varying color harmonies the sunset effects on Lake Tahoe, what a picture it would be! In the galleries of art its equal could not be found. The lake lying blue and beautiful beneath the snow-crowned hills; a dreamy atmosphere enveloping everything. The hills fade away in the farther distance like the receding minarets of some ethereal city. The waters melt with the mountains in the far away—mountains and waters fade into azure and the sky. Banners of gold, opalescent streamers and celestial torches flame and are flung across above the ball of the sun; dark shadows and hoary mountain silhouettes beneath. Far and near rainbow hues play and scintillate and bluish upon the peaks and hills. The waters burst in diamonds kissed by the breeze, or mirror back the skies when still. The scene varies each instant. The molten ball slowly sinks. The light and glories are intensified. Nature is all at once prodigal of her treasures. She showers the world with her gorgeous coloring. She paints the sky with dazzling gold and crimson; the sea with ruby; the hills with a sheen of rainbows. The sun is a hemisphere, a crescent, a point of dazzling flame—is gone. The ephemeral hues of sunset linger awhile, and fade slowly; they too are gone. But the lake is still there.—Sierra Tourist.

Kilkenny Cats.
During the rebellion which occurred in Ireland in 1798, or it may be in 1803, Kilkenny was garrisoned by a troop of Hessian soldiers, who amused themselves in barracks by tying two cats together by their tails and throwing them across a clothes line to fight. The officers, hearing of the cruel practice, resolved to stop it. As he entered the room one of the troopers, seizing a sword, cut the tails in two as the animals hung across the line. The cats escaped, minus their tails, through the open window, and when the officers enquired the meaning of the two bleeding tails being left in the room, he was coolly told that the cats had devoured each other all but their tails.—Notes and Queries.

The World Enriched.
The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

The Latest Bang.
The latest hair bang is called the Bernhard bang, and was originated by a countryman of the celebrated actress. Its effect is entirely novel. All the heaviness that false hair usually brings to the face is banished by the Bernhard, which has a light part in the middle of the brow, where a light fluff falls nearly to the eyes on each side and forms a softly curled wave of hair, but waved with the old pervading air of lightness.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

POSIES.

Oh, for the dear old fashioned posies,
Growing close by the kitchen door;
Poppies soft to bring forgetting,
Balm and mint for a spirit sore.

Heartsease sweet for hearts that are aching,
Ragged ladies and four o'clocks;
Marigold with wealth uncounted,
Cabbage roses and hollyhocks.

Old time plinks with their spicy odor,
Tiger lilies and columbine;
Honey sweet in its golden chalice,
Humming birds in the climbing vine.

Sundewers tall that turn their faces
Out to the West as the sun goes down;
Morning glories that close and cover
Under the rays of his burning frown.

Clover fields with the bees a-humming,
Drowsy grasses, which sway and nod;
Busy reapers the ripe grain cutting,
Fragrant breath of new mown sod.

Oh, for the dear old fashioned posies,
Growing close by the kitchen door,
And for the loved familiar faces
Gone from our gaze forevermore.

—Pittsburg Bulletin.

POSIES.

Among the graduates of the year one brave young woman has completed a course frankly taken in preparation for matrimony. Like many girls who make society amusements their chief existence, this young woman did not realize the deficiencies in her education until she had won the friendship and love of one who was her superior in intellectual acquirements. With the realization of her ignorance came the determination to study for self improvement.

Entering as a pupil at a well known school for girls she took courses in literature, philosophy and other studies, which would enable her to write and speak with accuracy and would teach her the best methods of thought. She entered classes of political economy and studied the newspapers under competent direction. Urging her teachers to correct all imperfections in her speech and manner, she made constant effort to attain the standard which might bring her nearer to an equality with her future husband.

The struggle was not easy. There were trials of pride in studying with girls of a more youthful age; there were many moments of mortification from the exposure of her ignorance. Determination to succeed won its usual rewards. The society girl, whose bright mind had been eclipsed by the routine of pleasures, became renowned in the school as one of the most earnest and satisfactory pupils. When she graduates this year into the refined home that has been in preparation for her she will meet her husband upon an equality, and entertain his friends with a feeling of cheerful confidence.

She says that the whole world seems more stable since she has been sure that her sentences are grammatical and her pronunciation according to the best authorities. —Boston Journal.

POSIES.

His Limit.

A disappointed fish peddler was laboring his slow but patient horse in a street in Georgetown, D. C., the other day, and calling out his wares at intervals, as

"Herrin, herrin, fresh herrin!"

A tender hearted lady, seeing the act of cruelty to the horse, called out sternly from an upper window:

"Have you no mercy?"

"No, mum," was the reply, "nothin' but herrin!" —Forest and Stream.

POSIES.

And It Is Presumed He Did.

"If you think you're going to collect any money from me," said Ardup doggedly, as he handed back the bill, "you're away off. You can't draw blood from a turnip."

"Maybe not," replied the man with the bill, peeling off his coat, "but I'm going to see if I can't pound a little out of a dead beat." —Chicago Tribune.

POSIES.

No Mistake.

Astonished Bill Clerk—Isn't there some mistake about this order from Bunker's Corners for 800 pounds of bacon and two bags of chichory?

Traveling Salesman—No. That's all right. A fellow went there a week or two ago and started a first class summer resort hotel. —Chicago Tribune.
